Copper is by modern Writers called Cuprum, forte q Æs Cyprium, and Brass is generally by English-men (through mistake) called Æs, whereas Brass is not a natural Metal, but a fictitious thing of Copper and Lapis Calimnaris or Cadmia.

Though modern Writers call Red Lead Minium, yet the Antients called it Sandyx. The Minium of the Antients was two fold, viz. Either (1.) the Cinnabaris of the Moderns, or (2.) the Rubrica. Verdea

(13) This is usually called in Latin Vaccinium, but erroneously, as I think.

(29) Currants is an equivocal Word with us, taken either for the Fruit of a Shrub called in Latin Ribes, or a small sort of Grape growing in Zar. The name Currant is taken from Corinthus, whence it's like this Fruit was first brought to us.

This is to be carefully heeded, lest any one be deceived by the confusion of these Names.

50) Whether Lemons and Oranges were known to the Antients, is uncertain. Some take them to have been the Aurea Mala Hesperidum.

The Serpent which we in English call a Snake, is called by Writers of the History of Animals in Latin, Natrix torquata.

The English Adder is the same with the Viper. I therefore it is the same that the Apothecaries take and sell for the Viper, both in France and Italy, and what modern Naturalists esteem and describe for the Viper; and a sufficient Argument that it is the Viper of the Ancients is, that it bringeth forth living young.

This Bird is supposed to be the Taurus of Pliny. The author of Philomela calls it Butio, but his Authority of no great weight. Some of the Moderns make this Bird the Onocrotalus of the Antients, because of the Noise he makes: But the Onocrotalus is now acknowledged to be a far different Fowl, viz. that we call in English the Pelican, and is by Naturalists also taken to be.

This Bird is also called in English an Alpe or Nope.

Emberiza is no ancient Latin Word, but made by a punner of the Dutch Emmerix. This Bird is by some named Rubetra, and by others Calandria.

(16) Note, That the Penult, or Cuculas is long, notwithstanding that the Author of Philomela makes short.

(17) The word Arquata is no antient Latine Name, imposed on this Bird by Gesner, from the bending resembling a Bow.

(18) This Bird is also called a Doucker and a Dobchick. The word Colymbus is by later Naturalists appropriated to this kind, and Mergus used for another sort. Divers more like to Ducks, having toothed Bills; indeed Mergus be a general name common to both sorts.

1) This Bird is called also a Sea-cob, and in Latin Gavia.

2) This is also called a Grouse, one sort hereof is taken to be the so-much commended Attagen of the Antients, viz that called the Red-Game.

3) Our Kingfisher is vulgarly taken for the Halcyon of the Antients, but the Notes of the Halcyon do not all agree to it, and therefore modern Writers have imposed the Name Ispide upon it, a vocis sonus.

6) Vannellus is a new made Name of the French Vanneau. This Bird by a great mistake, hath been generally taken to be the Upupa of the Antients, which is now by all acknowledge'd to be the Hoopo.

7) This Bird is also called in Latin Cassita and Galerita, because one sort of it hath a Tuft or Crest on the Head.

8) This is also no ancient Latin Word, but a newly imposed Name, as is also Gallinula for a More-hen, Pluvialis for a Plover, Ruticilla for a Red-start, Rubecula for a Robin-red-breast:

(88) This hath been commonly mistaken for Regulus and Trochilus of the Antients; but now the Regulus is well known to be another Bird less than this, which is also found with us in England, but hath no English Name that I know.

(1) What the antient Latin name of this Fish was is unknown, Albertus named it Pungitius from its Prickles, others call it Spinachia.

(2) The Bream hath been by many taken to be the Abramis, by reason of the affinity of the Words, but Rondeletius denies it.

(3) I see no reason but the Cockle may be called in Latin Pectunculus; howbeit I have complied with Naturalists in giving it the general name Concha, with the distinctive Epithet striata.

(28) Altho' it be generally agreed among later Naturalists, that our Herring is not the Halec of the Ancients, yet since it is a general opinion of vulgar Latins, and neither hath an Herring any antient Latin name, nor Halec a known English name. I have let it stand formerly. That Herring should have no antient Latin or Greek name is no wonder, it being a Fish proper to the Ocean, and so probably unknown to the antient Greeks and Latins.

(31) This Fish hath been by mistake called Murena, whereas Murena is a much different Fish, common to the Mediterranean Sea, and called at this day Murene. Yet Rondeletius will have it to be the Murene fluvialis of Athenus. However it must by no means be called simply Murena without the distinctive Epithet of fluvialis.

(33) Our Lobster hath been generally, but falsely, taken for Lecusio Marina; which mistake ought to be rectified.

Here care must be taken, lest being deceived by identity of names, we take our English Mullet to be the Mullus of the Antients; much less are we to call our Barbel, a Fish of little account, to be their Mullus.

What the antient Latin and Greek names of this Fish were, is not certainly known. Rubellio and Erythrinus are names of a Sea-Fish.

The Shad or Alosa, Rondeletius will by no means allow to be the Clupea of the Latins; it may therefore be called in Latin Alosa, according to the French name.

For the affinity of name I have made Squatina the Latin for Scate tho' I am not ignorant that Squatina is a Fish which in some places of England they call Monk Fish.

(57) Of the antient names of our Sturgeon in Greek Latin there are almost as many Opinions as Authors. That it was the Accipenser of the Latins I think probable: What it was called by the Greeks is so clear. That it was not the Elops, Randele proves, who would have it to be the Asellus Called of Athenaus.

(65) This is thought to be the Salar of Ausonius. What the antient Greek name thereof was is unknown.

7) The ancient Latin Names of these Insects are known; we have put down the names they are commonly known and called by Naturalists. The is also called Perla from the Italian name of it.

Cicada by a general mistake in our Schools, hath been englished a Grass-hopper; whereas Cicada is an Insect of far different make from the Grass-hopper, proper to hot Countries, not known in England, and having no English name; that usually sits on Trees, and sings so loud that it may be heard afar off.

The Words Nephew and Niece are by us now almost wholly restrain'd to the Brothers or Sisters Son and Daughter, notwithstanding Nepos and Neptis of which they are derived, signifie them we call Grand-children Male and Female. The Antients never used Nepos and Neptis for the Brother or Sisters Son and Daughters, whom they called Patris aut Sororis filius & filia.
